Of New $6,500,000 Six-
Month PlanPUBLIC HEARINGS

Grant Per Case $12
A Month

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, June 9.—Details of new $6,500,000 six-month relief program placing the burden of care of Ohio's needy largely on the counties, went to county commissioners today. On their reaction in public hearings next week depends the fate of the bill. House finance committee members unanimously reported it for passage last night but with express understanding that it would not be submitted to the house until after the hearings.

Scale of Rates

The bill would make the highest relief grant per case $12 a month, that in seven urban counties of 30,000 or more population. Clients in 36 semi-urban counties of 30,000 to 200,000 population would receive $10 a month, while those in 6 rural counties of less than 30,000 population would receive but $8 a month.

Committee members said that if counties desired to make higher grants, they would have to provide additional funds themselves. State relief commission statistics show the average cost per case in Cuyahoga county in April was $27.43.

From the general revenue fund the bill would take an estimated $1,500,000 to add to $5,000,000 expected to be left in the present relief fund by July 1, effective date of the new bill and expiration date of the present law.

An emergency $500,000 fund would be set aside to supplement grants to counties, but such grants would not exceed 15 per cent of the fund.

Must Issue Bonds

To qualify for grants every county which has not issued Carey relief bonds would have to do so and place the proceeds in county relief funds.

The state auditor would make a state-wide survey of relief rolls as of April 13 to determine persons eligible for relief and absentee persons refusing to accept employment would be stricken from the rolls.

To guard against exhausting the fund no more than a certain percentage of the total available each month could be spent.

The bill would increase allowable administrative costs from five to ten per cent.

While direct relief clients looked to next week's hearings and tentatively scheduled return of both houses of the legislature, work-relief clients—employees of the Works Progress administration—received assurance that their jobs would continue after July 1, scheduled date for the end of the WPA.

A WPA official said continuation of the WPA program was almost a certainty, with only minor details of the new appropriations bill delaying final enactment by congress.

Get Plans On Washing-
tonville Project

Detailed plans and specifications for the improvement of the Columbiana-Washingtonville road (State Route 14), for a distance of approximately four miles will be filed with the state highway department this week, it was said today by Robert Wheatley, state president highway engineer.

From Washingtonville east from the intersection of the Erie railroad, the highway will be improved with a concrete top to a width of 40 feet to the summit of the hill, and from there it will be a 20-foot roadway to Pearl st. Columbiana, a concrete sidewalk will be poured on the north and south side of the highway to the hill summit.

The concrete bridge east of Washingtonville will be razed and replaced by a new structure. A new bridge also will be built on the route a short distance west of Columbiana.

A detour is planned from Washingtonville south to Leontonia thence east over the Leontonia-Columbiana improved highway to Columbiana.

County commissioners have awarded a contract for the improvement of the Washingtonville-Leontonia road in order to sustain the contemplated increased traffic that will be compelled to travel this route.

Political Storm Signals Up as Convention Gets Under WayOpening Session Starts At 11 A. M. Today; Keynote
Steiner to Deliver Speech Tonight

By EDWARD J. DUFFY, Associated Press Staff Writer.
CLEVELAND, June 9.—Storm signals aloft, the Republican convention set off today toward a presidential nomination and platform of profound import for the party and perhaps national destiny.

The advantageous position held by the forces fighting for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas was acknowledged on all sides.

Outwardly a deceptive calm prevailed. But underneath the surface struggles over places on the ticket and principles on which to oppose the New Deal raged unabated.

Bereft of the usual keynote speech, which was deferred until this evening in the vast auditorium bordering on Lake Erie, the opening session at 11 a. m. was confined to formalities.

After prayers and anthems, Cleveland's mayor, Harold H. Burton, was first on the list of speakers, with an address of welcome. Around the walls on either side stood flags of the states in groups of three; but aside from these there were few decorations.

A get-down-to-business mood seemed to be asserting itself among the delegates as they awaited the keynote tonight by Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon.

Delegates noticed that the frequent expressions of confidence coming from Landon leaders now contained fewer references to a bandwagon rush. At the same time stood flags of the states in groups of three; but aside from these there were few decorations.

ENROUTE TO LITTLE ROCK,
Ark., June 9.—With congress in recess a week, President Roosevelt will set off today on a 4,000-mile tour of the west and speaking engagements in Arkansas, Texas and Indiana.

Leaving Washington at midnight by special train, the President was headed today through the mountains of Tennessee for Little Rock, Ark., where he will make his first scheduled address tomorrow in commemoration of Arkansas' century of statehood.

Other speeches are slated for Dallas, Texas, Friday morning, at the exposition celebrating Texas' 100th anniversary of independence from Mexico, and for Sunday morning at Vincennes, Ind., in dedication of a memorial to George Rogers Clark, who defeated the British there during the revolution.

CONVENTION HALL, CLEVELAND, June 9.—In a perfunctory session which brought none of the party strife to the surface, the Republican convention opened today amid a profusion of Landon sunflowers.

Committees on platform and other questions were set up and the members called to meet in an endeavor to reconcile behind closed doors, if possible, the many disputes under way.

Little Time Required
Under the forceful if diplomatic guiding gavel of Chairman Henry P. Fletcher the routine was dispatched in less than an hour.

Some of the delegates and many of the holders of Gallery tickets did not even show up. John M. Hamilton, manager for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, was at the center of a eager group right beneath Fletcher's nose during a large part of the proceedings. He said "all is well" and let it go at that.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who is not a delegate this year, remained away; but Senator Vandenberg of Michigan—himself a possibility for the nomination in event of deadlock—visited with party leaders on the platform. There were no demonstrations.

Caucuses Important
Caucuses of some state delegations later in the day were considered more important for the ultimate outcome than the opening session itself, if decisions on whom to support were to be reached. It seemed likely, however, that several of the larger delegations would keep their own counsel to the last compared with the pellmell rush which put Herbert Hoover across in 1928 long before balloting began.

Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, for whom this is the first convention, was given an ovation when formally elected to the temporary chairmanship.

The convention recessed at 11:33 p. m. until 8 p. m., when Steiwer will deliver the keynote speech.

Ballot

(By H. H. DAUGHERTY, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Frank F. Taggart, Massillon manufacturer backed by State Chairman Ed D. Schorr, defeated Walter Brown of Toledo today in the race for national Republican committeeman from Ohio.

Brown, postmaster general in President Herbert Hoover's cabinet and for many years the state's representative on the national committee, lost his seat after a bitter conflict which followed a split with Schorr.

How They Voted

The Ohio delegation, meeting in caucus shortly before the opening session of the national convention, nominated Taggart for the national committee post on the third ballot with the following vote:

Taggart, 27; Brown, 21; James M. Linton of Columbus, 2; John S. Knight of Akron, 2.

Convention Just
Pain In the Feet
To Many Delegates

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, June 9.—To many a delegate, the Republican convention already has become a pain in the feet.

Long hours of pacing pavements and the endless standing around that distinguishes the convention-benchman many a delegate before the opening gavel fell.

"Soak 'em, my friend," comes the advice from some hard-heeled veterans.

"Soak 'em? never," others caution. "That only makes them tender."

Philippines delegates say their chairman, Kenneth B. Day, traveled farther than any other person to attend the Republican convention. Day, a coconut oil manufacturer, covered 15,000 miles on the way from Manila, traveling via Europe.

If jaywalking delegates get run over they can't say they weren't warned. Touring the streets are fifteen snow-white automobiles, from which the "voice of safety" booms a loudspeaker warning to all and sundry to watch their step.

John B. Guard, alternate delegate from Honolulu, evidently believes fine feathers make fine birds. His hatband is made from the gaudiest feathers of 40 peacocks.

Two sons of former Republican presidents are at the convention—Teddy Roosevelt Jr., and Charles Taft.

William B. Shearer of Washington, the big navy man, moved in and sundry to watch their step.

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER

When the supreme court threw cold water on the New York minimum wage law it started a political chill which will keep politicians on their toes throughout the presidential campaign. There has been much scoffing and more questioning. Even moderates suggest that the court crowded itself a little.

For years, states have been passing laws governing wages and hours. Even in face of the adverse court opinion, it's likely they will continue to experiment with this method of approaching temporary solutions to real problems. Point is given to the likelihood by rumors that Landon forces are considering advocacy of a constitutional amendment guaranteeing, or a declaration of principle asserting, the right of states to fix minimum wages and hours and to set working condition standards.

Aspirations of new dealers for constitutional amendment have been taking a different form, of course. From time to time as the court struck back at the instruments of the More Abundant Life, Rooseveltians muttered of amendments giving the federal government control over almost everything. They sought to destroy the sovereignty of states where the latest proposal looks to defining specifically a power which states may exercise.

It cannot be predicted there will be any constitutional amending for either purpose. However, the supreme court has given platform makers in both conventions something to consider.

IT SHOULD BE ADEQUATE

President Roosevelt has put his signature on an official document authorizing the United States to meet a bill of $526,546,532. It is the navy supply act which thus goes into effect.

Calling for an increase in enlisted strength from the present 93,500 to 100,000, the act also provides for 333 new planes, 12 destroyers and six submarines. It enlarges the size and facilities of the marine corps and authorizes the construction of two new battleships in the event any treaty power starts to build ships of that classification.

This naval appropriation combined with the army act calling for expenditure of $527,446,844, gives the country the largest peacetime armament budget in history. A total of $1,053,993,376 thus has been authorized—or almost $3,000,000 a day.

Accustomed as they are to astronomical figures when thinking of federal finances, Americans may be excused if they pause when they realize this huge amount has been appropriated for what is termed national defense. Also, they may be forgiven for wondering whether so much money could be used exclusively—and wisely—for defense purposes. If they give way to the suspicion that the United States fears an aggressor, they might go on to ask—whom does this country fear? Whom are we preparing to fight?

"INVASION AND INFRINGEMENT"

Some commentators have tried to remain calm as they put relief administration under their microscopes. They have asserted the problem cannot be solved by the mere assertion that administration should be turned back to the states. They have pointed out there is no assurance state or local politicians would bring to the work any higher sense of ethics than that shown by federal employees. They have, even, gone so far as to suggest federal jurisdiction can be justified so long as the funds are coming from Washington.

Yet such commentators may well be disturbed by news from Pennsylvania that federal authorities have secured an order restraining state senators from investigating the WPA administration in that state. Asserting that such investigation would "constitute an invasion and infringement of and interference with the operation of the government of the United States," federal attorneys have succeeded in halting the state inquiry at least until an injunction hearing is held June 12.

In view of the consistency with which Mr. Hopkins and his aids have denied charges of political abuses within relief administration and have urged critics to lodge specific complaints with them, friendly observers cannot but question the apparent high handedness of government officials in Pennsylvania. They might be reassured if they were convinced that the hearing was going to be in the nature of a round table at which charges would be made and investigated. Instead, it appears that at the meeting June 12 federal authorities will seek to obtain a permanent injunction against the state inquiry.

THE STARS SAY

For Wednesday, June 10

A day of stirring events, with much enterprise and initiative, is forecast by the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects. It is a time of splendid promise and opportunity, especially in the launching of new projects, where the co-operation and friendship of those in places of prominence and authority are needed. These may be approached with confidence, and it is also propitious for approaching employers for promotion or favors. But shun extravagance and be discreet in personal life.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of excellent opportunities for advancement, preferment, honors and the support of those in place and power in promoting meritorious projects or bold ventures.

A child born on this day may be energetic, bold, adventurous and ambitious, and may reach important position through its creative ability and the preferment of those in power.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, June 9—Uncle Walt Mason, whose syndicated newspaper verse has delighted so many for years, has just passed his 74th birthday at La Jolla, Cal., where he has settled down in semi-retirement. Writing a little, but mostly walking with his dog and reading mystery stories.

Mason, Canadian born, began as a roaming job printer and has seen all shadings of life in his gypsying. He began writing verse on the side in St. Louis, but it was William Allen White who gave him his chance as telegraph editor of his Emporia, Kansas, Gazette.

On the Gazette he turned out a paragraph of verse daily after "30" and it attracted so much attention a syndicate took it on. It appealed to cities as well as villages and was one of the outstanding features of the old New York Globe.

It is estimated that in his 29 years of poetizing he has written 8,000 daily rhymes. Mason has been practically stone deaf most of his life but believes he has avoided much annoyance by his affliction. He thinks every man should quit eating sweets after 60.

Many who receive those peremptory demands designed in the manner of court subpoenas to appear at the opening of this cafe or that bar feel somewhat like Whistler, who, upon receiving the summons of a salon committee replied: "Gentlemen, I never have been nor do I expect to be at any particular place at exactly 8 o'clock."

The deservedly famous Theodor is now bowing customers into his own restaurant in the East 50's. His full name is Theodor Szarvis, and for many years he was the maitre d'hotel at the Ritz establishments in Paris, London and New York, and until the 1929 crack-up was considered the richest of his guild, bowing to his job in a limousine from his estate at Mt. Kisco. His new place is done in the Ball decor. Theodor is a friend of the literary great in many lands, friendships that include Molnar, E. Phillips Oppenheim, Michael Arlen, G. B. Stern, and Dreiser. He is regarded as the world's champion salad mixer. And speaks five languages.

Harry Evans's new post as talent scout in the East for a Hollywood movie outfit broadens his scope as a getter-arounder—the No. 1 Man About Town. Talent scouting is particularly fitted to the Evans's tempo, for he is in at the ringside of most important entertainment didoes. When he sees a likely prospect he tips off his bosses and they send agents with contracts. Evans came to New York from Florida about ten years ago to be movie critic on Life, and later became publisher of a folksy trade paper known as The Family Circle, a venture he will continue along with his new chore.

Rob Wagner brings up a moot question as to just when a man is in his prime. And points to the Moose River mine disaster, where a young man of 33 was first to succumb and another victim of 44 was trundled out on a stretcher. The one who stood toe to toe with the greatest equanimity was the fellow of 62 who came out by himself and with a smile!

New York has many rosy examples of vigor with years. Amos Salka, the avenue haberdasher, is one of the spryest gentlemen for his years in the vesperal promenade. He only dropped active duties a year or so ago in his 70's. George Blumenthal, art collector, also in his 70's is more eager about life than most men of 50. And there is the incredible Col. Creighton Webb, bon vivant, octogenarian who is usually in white tie and tails and as gadding as the ubiquitous Lucius Beebe.

Beebe, incidentally, is in esteem with newspapermen because of his sheer love of the game. He is aureoled with something of the Richard Harding Davis patina—aristocratic birth and the cultural clings of a Back Bay background. He has his flings in society, but much of the time he is in the rowdier dens. Unlike most of the weather "Journalists" he can write, as Frank O'Malley used to say like a house afire.

NERVOUSNESS

"Nervousness" in children is a common complaint. Too often it is accepted as a trivial disorder and attracts little attention. This is unfortunate, because what may seem to be unimportant may be the forerunner of something really serious.

Many children develop a habit of stuttering. The mother may scold such a child, thinking the weakness is due to nervousness. Many of these children are victims of chorea or "St. Vitus' dance".

Rheumatic fever is another serious infection of childhood. It is especially dangerous when neglected, perhaps leading to permanent damage of the heart. If recognized in its early stages and treatment is applied, serious complications can be prevented.

It is common for parents to attribute muscular pains to rapid growing. Bear in mind that there is no such thing as "growing pains"; if a child complains of muscular pains, medical attention is advised. A child who complains of muscular pains, twitchings, dropping objects and stuttering is not nervous merely, but is really a sick child. The poor youngster requires medical care and constant attention.

May Be Infection

Of course, some children complain of pain in their legs after hard play. Under such circumstances it may be no more than natural fatigue. But the symptoms may be due to infection or other disease.

Do not confuse nervousness with "temper". Often a child is excused on the ground that he is "highly strung". He may refuse food, lose weight, and become susceptible to many infections.

I do not mean to leave you with the impression that children who appear to be nervous are suffering from serious diseases. But I do mean to imply that every child who shows signs of "nervousness" needs a doctor's help. If the child is a victim of temper tantrums, bed-wetting, hysteria, dropping objects, stuttering and failure to gain in weight, consult with your doctor. It may be that he will advise diet, medicine or prolonged rest.

The nervous child should have more attention, of course, than the normal one. But do not make too much fuss over him. Do not arouse in his mind the idea that he differs from his playmates. It takes a lot of tact and common sense to deal wisely with a nervous child.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. W. D. H. Q.—My husband has Parkinson's disease and it is affecting his right arm. What is the proper treatment for this disease?

A.—This can only be given by the physician attending the patient.

Miss E. M. S. Q.—What should be done for kidney stones in the case of a child of ten years of age? Is it possible for this condition to be present in a child? Is it possible that the trouble can be relieved by medicine without resorting to operation?

A.—The treatment should be outlined by the attending physician. Yes. In some instances careful diet may be of great benefit and advantage. Your doctor will advise you.

"BLIND TO LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Just don't want to look mannish. That's all. The chief abominates mannish looking women. I don't dare get one of these new tailored type. But when he has such a horror about looking mannish, why I'm safer to get—

Ethelyn, off on her eternal 'the chief says, the boss thinks, Mr. Alexander believes—'

"I'd see myself dressing to suit MY boss!"

Hurt silence from Ethelyn. Shouldn't have said that. Ethelyn was crazy about Alexander, though a lot of good it would do her.

"Alexander has wonderful taste, though. He may be right at that."

Ethelyn came to again. "Wonderful taste! My dear, the way that man thinks of DETAILS! Did you happen to notice the necktie and shirt harmony he had yesterday? That deep henna of the tie, just bringing out the blue of the shirt—"

"I must do something definite today, Mary thought. Anything will be better than waiting. I'll write—wish I'd gotten up and written it last night. No, I CAN'T write—I won't let him think I'm felled. Yes—and lose him, because I haven't gumption enough to fight."

The right kind of letter—Bennet was on a rampage. Report after report. He was there ready to start dictating, when she arrived, at 10 minutes to 9. Wires came. Shippers telephoned. She'd have to sit there, staring into space, wasting time, while he talked.

They all seemed sorry that he was going. Mary began to be sorry, too. He wasn't so bad, really. Samson, coming to take his place, would probably be worse.

But she was still plugging away at 2 o'clock, though she'd only taken a half-hour for lunch, and hadn't had a minute to herself so far.

And at three he came in again, and asked her if she would mind staying until 6 or 7, to get everything finished.

Mind? That's all they know or care about you! But you can't refuse. Ma was put out about it, too, when she telephoned to her.

"Then you won't be home in time for dinner?"

"Ma, I just SAID I couldn't leave until 6 or 7! How could I possibly—"

"Then get a bowl of soup on the boat, and I'll have your dinner hot in the oven—"

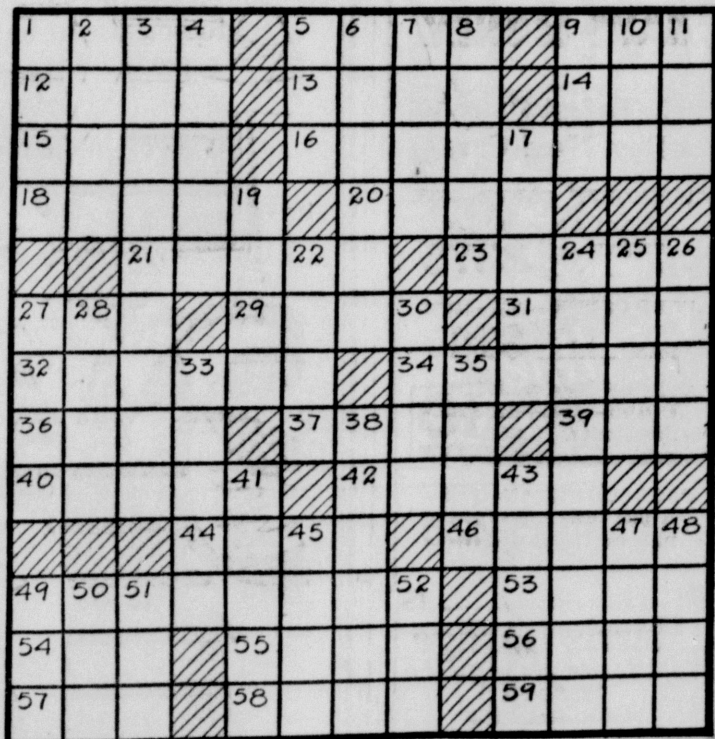

No, I'll go out for a few minutes and get something. Don't keep anything for me—"

By the time she had it out with Ma, and made it clear she WOULDN'T be home to dinner, she was all worn out.

Resorts Prepare for Record Vacation Season

Probably the question uppermost in the mind of the American public today, regardless of the depression or politics, is where to spend that precious vacation. As June rolls around each year it signals the beginning of an intensive campaign on the part of each member of the family in support of his or her choice of where to spend father's "reprieve" of two weeks and his extra cash. Resorts and travel bureaus estimate a 40 per cent increase in the volume of travel over last year. National parks are preparing for more than 5,000, 000 visitors. Mexico and the Canadian northwest will also be the mecca of thousands of tourists. At the same time, the exodus of Americans abroad is expected to be the largest in recent years. Others who fancy a cruise but cannot afford to cross the ocean are expected to take advantage of the special 10-day cruises to the Bahamas, Bermuda and other points south. One of the major changes in vacation habits in recent years has been the lengthening of the season which was once limited largely to the months of July and August.

CONGRESS QUITS FOR CONVENTION

Legislators Take Week Recess During G. O. P. Meet In Cleveland

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Congress is taking a week's recess during the Republican national convention, but difficulties with the new tax bill remained today to plague conferees.

With a joint meeting of the conferees unlikely until tomorrow, the house group buckled down to study its measure—including the 289 amendments tacked on by the senate.

Before he left the Capitol for his western speaking tour, President Roosevelt yesterday talked with Democratic conferees. Those who attended gave no indication that a basis for agreement had been reached or that any compromise would lean toward the house version, which is nearer to the president's expressed views on the taxation question.

The principal point of contention remained the question of a levy on undistributed corporate profits. The house bill calls for a graduated scale up to 42½ per cent, while the senate's provides a flat 7 per cent.

304 Ohio Convicts To Receive Bonus Bonds This Month

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 9.—More than 300 of the 3,800 prisoners in Ohio's state penitentiary will receive bonus bonds this month, but Warden James C. Woodard said none of the actual cash would remain inside the walls of the institution.
"The bonus bonds if converted into cash will be deposited to the credit of the prisoners, and they may give it to their relatives, dispose of it within reason, or allow it to remain to their credit in the prison financial division," Woodard said.

Applications Filed
He estimated that total bonus payments to prisoners at the penitentiary would be more than $150,000, with individual payments averaging between $500 and $600. Three hundred and four of the 333 war veterans eligible for bonus payments have made application for them, he said.
"Exact regulations for handling bonus payments have not been completed," the warden said, "but we anticipate no trouble in locating veterans to whom bonds are sent."

None of the four men awaiting execution in the prison's death cells will receive bonuses, although Richard Keller of Cincinnati, convicted slayer of a laundryman, is an ex-soldier. Keller served in the army in 1924 but was not a World War veteran.
Bonus payments will not be the signal within the prison for a spending spree, the warden said, because by regulations prisoners are limited to purchases of about 75 cents a week in the prison store.

STATE TO CHECK PERSONAL TAXES

Persons Who Have Not Made Current Returns Will Be Notified From Lisbon Office
LISBON, June 9.—A representative of the Ohio Tax commission is expected to open headquarters here soon to make a complete check against persons who have not filed personal tax returns for the current year.

Personal tax records of the county are being reviewed for the purpose of making a check against those who made returns in 1935, and where no return for 1936 has been filed, notice is to be mailed.
The general code of the state provides that when no return has been filed, it is required that personal property be assessed with a 50 per cent penalty. It is further provided, however, that if delinquents list personal property immediately, the penalty is to be reduced to 10 per cent.
Personal property consists of livestock or domestic animals, hay or grains as of Jan. 1 last, farm or general machinery, business or office equipment, inventories or stocks of merchandise, aircraft or watercraft, stocks, bonds, mortgages or other forms of collateral, whether dividends or interest were paid or not; cash on hand, postal savings or money in bank outside the state of Ohio.

Baptismal Service At Lake Wednesday

The baptism program will replace the regular service at the tabernacle, 175 West State st., Wednesday Night.

Debate Rail Fate

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The fate of a 13-mile long railroad between Pioneer, Williams county, and Fayette, Fulton county, Ohio, rested today with its ruling on an "omission and its ruling on an appeal for approval of a locomotive purchase."
Earl S. Snyder, president of the road, asked permission to issue $7,000 in equipment trust certificates and sell them to the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He told the commission the old locomotive has broken down so many times the road might have to stop operations unless I could get a new one.

GENERAL BADOGLIO, who was sent by Mussolini to take over Ethiopia, did so, celebrated his triumph in Rome yesterday. Mussolini and the Italian King, now emperor of Ethiopia, assisting. The triumphant general named victory of Ethiopia by Mussolini, who surprised the world with the swiftness of his conquest, led his troops, burned by the tropical sun, under the victory arch of Constantine to the tomb of the unknown soldier of the big war.

IT WAS A great victory day for Rome, but features of the old Roman triumph were lacking, Caesar returning from Gaul and riding in triumph, dragged behind his chariot Vergetroix, unfortunate and brave leader of the Gauls, who went from the triumph to languish in a dungeon until death freed him.

Cleopatra killed herself, by snake bite or otherwise, not so much on account of Marc Anthony, because she did not want to be paraded in a similar triumph, especially after she had presented little Caesarion, to the greatest of the Caesars.

IF IT had been an old-fashioned Roman triumph for Badooglio, he would have dragged Haile Selassie through the streets behind his chariot.

Things are easier for ex-emperors now. Selassie will go to live in a beautiful villa, thoughtfully purchased in Switzerland, at the right moment.

"STORMS KILL nine in Oklahoma and Kansas; tornadoes, floods and lightning cause havoc," so runs the headlines and so other headlines have been running for months past.

ONCE MEN would have asked: "What have we done to annoy the power above? How can we please that power?"
There is no more of that now; No college head attributes a visiting comet to human wickedness; no clergyman orders church bells rung to frighten away devils riding on the storm.

Men take things as they come, everything for granted, and go on with the 1936 campaign. Even another calamity, like the Lisbon earthquake that made atheists of so many, would be explained satisfactorily by geologists. Men have an idea that the earth, once started, is left in their care, with no interference from above. Billy Sunday did not think so, but he is dead.

THE BLACK LEGION, latest secret murder organization, tells candidates "you cannot join, unless you are a native-born, white, Protestant Gentile; willing to proceed against Negroes, Catholics and Jews." To "proceed against" means murder.

The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, a Protestant organization, says it is shameful for the Black Legion to use the word "Protestant" and blasphemous to use the name "God Almighty."

THAT IS just criticism doubtless; but the various religions themselves, having taught for centuries until recently that adherents of other religions must inevitably go to hell and burn forever, the lowest drops of the population cannot be expected to rise above the religious teacher of yesterday.

Religious tolerance must prevail in the various religions—there is not too much of it, yet.

He announces "no devaluation of the franc," a step toward conservatism, such as radicals often take when they acquire responsibility.

"Half Angel," one of the two films on the double bill at the State theater tonight and tomorrow, stars Frances Dee and Brian Donlevy in a clever mystery yarn. Others in the cast are Charles Butterworth, Helen Westley and Henry Stephenson.

The story opens with Miss Dee on trial for the poison murder of her father, Donlevy and Butterworth, two newspapermen, alone believe the girl innocent. To the astonishment of the court the verdict is for acquittal and then Donlevy determines to obtain Miss Dee's life story and clear her name without a shadow of doubt.

Another Poisoning

When the two reporters try to make an appointment with the girl they find that she has gone to the home of Miss Westley, a wealthy woman whose hobby is helping those in trouble. Arriving at her home, Miss Dee finds it a strange household, peopled with a weird assortment of ex-criminals. That day the wealthy woman and her husband are found dead in the house from poisoning.

Again Miss Dee is put on trial for murder and Donlevy, with Butterworth blundering constantly and interfering, sets out to find the real murderer and clear Miss Dee.

"Florida Special," the second film, shows a cross section of experiences of many passengers on a special train bound for Florida. There are a wealthy man, his niece and his secretary who have with them a millionaire's ransom in diamonds, a band of jewel thieves who know of the possible loot, a newspaper reporter and his playboy friend and the charming hostess of the limited.

Much Excitement

A great many exciting things happen aboard the speeding train, murder, robbery and love among them. Jack Oakie plays the smart newspaper man, Sally Eilers the hostess. Others are Kent Taylor, Frances Drake, Sam (Schlepper) Hurn and J. Farrell MacDonald.

Umpire Reasbeck Halts Trades-Cigars Tilt In Eleventh Inning

Tradesmen Hold Four Run Lead As Game Is Called; Foremen Gain 7th Victory

Action Looms For Meeting of Class A Managers and Board of Arbitration Tonight; Methodists and Christians Win Class B Games

Dynamite was loaded into the Class A softball league, and it appears as though the biggest explosion is going to result when managers of the senior circuit meet at the Memorial building tonight with Joe Reese, head of the board of arbitration.

There are two problems facing the Class A moguls and "Judge Landis" Reese. One is, what to do about the marathon game played last Friday night in which 47 runs were scored and the one team handed the verdict to another without so much as making a contest.

The second, and perhaps the more popular, concerns one of the Class A league's contests, last night in which the Trades Class and United Cigars battled for 10 innings and then were halted in the first half of the eleventh when the Trades Class were out in front by four runs.

Umpire Ray Reasbeck called the game after Dick Coe, playing manager of the Trades Class, made it obvious that he wished his batters to strike out and take the field, and after Pitcher Walter Smith of the United Cigars made it no less evident that he was going to walk batsmen until the moon came out.

Darkness was closing in on the contest at the end of the tenth inning when the score was knotted at six-all but a conference between managers of the two teams and officials resulted in a decision to play another inning.

The Trades went to bat and, before Smith had been able to retire one batter, sent four runs across the plate, two of them on Bill Coe's circuit hit. At this point, Jim Smith, Cigar shortstop, sauntered out to Brother Walter in the box and talked quietly to him, evidently telling him to walk the coming batters and stall for darkness. At the same time, Coe, coaching from the third base line, called to Burrell at bat to "strike out and let's get out in field."

Smith's first pitch after the talk with his brother was far over Burrell's head, but regardless, the Trades' batter took a feeble swing at the ball, missing it by at least two feet.

Here Umpire Reasbeck stepped to the front, took of his mask and shouted, "This game is called."

Coe raced from his coaching position toward the batters' box yelling, "You can't do that!" Umpire Reasbeck calmly replied, "I did it."

A conference following Reasbeck's decision resulted in nothing. The Trades indicated that they would file a protest with the board of arbitration. Umpire Reasbeck, whose word is law on the playing field, was perfectly willing that they do so.

Questioned following the contest, Reese said he believed Reasbeck was right in calling the game and that he will probably support his decision at the meeting tonight.

Up until the action-packed eleventh inning, the contest was one of the best played in the Class A league so far this season. It was the first time since seven-inning games have been played that a contest has been forced into four extra frames.

The Cigars trailed throughout the first four innings, but rallied in the fifth to come within one run of the Trades and then deadlocked the score in the seventh. The "Schoolmen" scored all of their runs in the first four frames.

Smith in the box for the Cigars allowed 13 hits during the game while Bill Miller, who went the full route on the mound for the Trades, granted but seven hits.

Mullins Foremen were forced to come from behind to defeat the Salem Hardware, 9-2, for their seventh victory in the first game on the senior leagues' program last night.

A home run by Dick Konert in the first inning enabled the Hardware to score two runs and take the lead, but its advantage lasted only until the third frame when the Foremen went out in front by sending three runs across the plate. Again in the fourth inning, the Foremen scored by capitalizing on "Wink Miller's error and from then on they had things all their own way.

Only ten hits were given during the game, George "Sim" Early, Hardware pitcher, granting six, and Jim Fitzpatrick, Mullins twirler, four.

"Gordy" Scullion and Wayne Slinger led the Foremen at bat with two hits each. The Hardware's blows were split between Konert, Schaefer, Scott and Prim.

Class B league games last night saw the second-place Methodists nose out the Friends, 5-4, and the cellar-ranking Columbians lose a heartbreaking decision to the Christians, 11-10.

Take Early Lead

The Methodists took the lead at the outset of their contest and staved off the Friends' rally to gain the victory. Glen Whinnery, pitcher for the M. E. nine, gave seven hits, while Brantingham, in the box for the Friends, granted eight blows.

L. Weigand and Whinnery paced the M. E.'s at the plate with two hits apiece. Jeffries batted out two hits out of three times at bat to lead the Friends.

After taking the lead in the fourth inning, 10-7, the Columbians lost out in their contest when the Christians brought in four markers during the fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

Thomas and E. McQuiston alternated on the mound for the Christians, granting only six hits, while Fisher, went the full route for the Columbians and allowed 12 blows.

Krauss' three hits out of four trips to the plate featured the Christians hitting performance. DeCrow and Fisher were outstanding at bat for the Columbians, getting two hits apiece.

It's All Practice

DAYTON, June 9.—Practice surely improves one's golf game. Denis Callahan, 16, parred the eighth hole at Community club on his first round. Then he birdied the same hole, 162 yards par 3, the second round. The third round he dropped his tee shot for an ace.

EASTMAN STILL IN GOOD FORM

Tops Season of Training With Half Mile In 1 Min., 51 Seconds

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Benjamin Bangs Eastman, the long legged young foot racer who holds four world's records and shares a fifth, apparently is worrying needlessly over his chances of making the American Olympic team.

On the strength of his latest time trial—a half mile in 1:51.1—the former Stanford university star stamped himself as Uncle Sam's foremost contender for 800 meters honors when the big international athletic competition gets under way at Berlin.

Eastman, who set the half mile and tied the 800 meters world records in 1934, topped a season of training and brief competition by running within 1 3-10 seconds of his fastest time in a trial last Sunday, it was learned today. His coach of college days R. L. (Dink) Templeton, held the watch.

Only recently, Eastman was concerned with his ability to condition himself through practice after work and on Sundays. Daily he drives nearly 100 miles to and from work.

This year marks a comeback for him. He laid off entirely in 1935. His times have improved steadily at the half mile or equivalent Olympic distance at which he is concentrating.

Yesterday's STARS

JOE DIMAGGIO, New York Yankees—Drove in five runs against Browns with homer, triple and single.

ALEX KAMPOURIS, Reds—His triple and two singles were responsible for three runs as Reds beat Giants.

CY BLANTON, Pirates—Went the route for first time this season, holding Dodgers to seven hits.

LARRY FRENCH, Cubs—Blanked Phillies with eight hits.

PINKIE HIGGINS, Athletics—Singled the run home in the tenth that defeated White Sox 5 to 4.

JOE CRONIN, Red Sox, and BILL ROGELL, Tigers—Cronin accounted for three of Sox's six runs in first game with homer; Rogell cleared loaded sacks in second with double.

Wrestling Results

LANCASTER, Pa.—Danno O'Mahoney, 228, Ireland, threw Charley Strack, 202, New York, 26-40.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Otto Kuss, 239, Indiana, defeated Jack Warner, 225, New York, two straight falls.

Smacks First Homer Of Baseball Career

CINCINNATI, June 9.—Clifford Hasecoeter has been in baseball for 22 years, but never hit a home run until last night.

His friends agreed today, however, he "picked his spot" to deliver the wallop—with two out, and three men on base.

The homer marked the fourth inning of a game between two teams in the junior order league.

Despite Hasecoeter's feat, however, his team lost 7 to 6.

New Golf Champ's Best Prize

After Tony Manero, North Carolina pro, astounded the golfing world with his record breaking round of 67 to total a record 282 in the National Open at Baltusrol Country Club, Springfield, N. J., he received a good old-fashioned kiss from Mrs. Manero over the top of the victory cup.

MANERO OUT IN SHAWNEE OPEN

National Open Champion Evidently Tired From Dash To Victory

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa., June 9.—Tony Manero, obviously tired from his blistering last-round dash to victory in the American open golf tournament last weekend, was almost out of the running today as a field of 53 top-flight performers swung into the final 36 holes of the Shawnee open.

Manero recovered much of his driving power in making 18 holes in 74 yesterday, two over par, but he still was shaky on the greens as he lagged 12 strokes behind Orville White, Chicago professional.

The national champion posted a 78-74-152, against White's 71-69-140. White held a two-stroke advantage over Clarence Doser, also from Chicago, with Byron Nelson of Ridgewood, N. J., close by in third with 143.

Two others, Ralph Guildhal of St. Louis at 144, and Felix Serafin of Scranton, 145, were within striking distance of the lead.

No less than 150 performers were under the 150 mark, and 11 yesterday equalled or bettered par on the difficult course.

Zioncheck Finds Freedom Is Short

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 9. — Breaking out of his room at Gallinger hospital and touring the grounds in a white bathrobe, Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck today lost his reputation as the institution's model patient. The Washington state representative, committed to the hospital for mental observation, freed himself by kicking out two window screens. He galloped about the grounds, whooping and puffing at a long black cigar, until apprehended by guards.

G. O. P. SESSIONS GET UNDER WAY

Storm Signals Flying As Cleveland Convention Is Opened

Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Borah of Idaho walked through streets and parks, sometimes arm in arm. This stroll aroused renewed rumors of cooperation against Landon, but they went unverified.

There was a conference, too, between Frank Gannett, New York state publisher and Borah supporter, and Senator Vandenberg. Later George H. Moses, former senator from New Hampshire who is strong for Col. Frank Knox, closeted himself with Vandenberg. But no announcement of significance came from these parleys.

Expect Knox Today
The arrival of Colonel Knox, Chicago publisher, possibly today, was expected in some quarters to produce more indications of how the actual contest under way might shape up. Also, the coming of former President Hoover for a speech tomorrow night might introduce factors which now are only speculative.

The ceremonies this morning evoked memories of past party glories. It was on the same floor that Calvin Coolidge swept to 1924 nomination.

By virtue of his chairmanship of the national committee, Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania had the presiding role.

Kansas City delegates had places right up front. Wooden standards seven feet tall marked the place of each delegation on a plan roughly resembling the locations of the states on the map. Maine had the first row on the "Atlantic" side, Washington on the Pacific. Iowa, Minnesota and Kansas shared the middle front.

The singing of "America" and prayer, by the Rev. Albert J. McCartney, of the Covenant-First Presbyterian church in the District of Columbia, preceded Mayor Burton on the program.

The only remaining business, before returning to the endless conferences in the hotels up the street, was the reading of the convention call by George De B. Kelm of New Jersey, secretary of the national committee, the roll call, election of temporary officers and selection of committees. The committees will deal with credentials disputes of delegates, rules and permanent organization, as well as the platform.

Monetary Plank Problem
As for the platform planks, a wide array of contradictory suggestions arrived with the delegated spokesmen of the people "back home."

The major arguments in the resolutions committee promised to be over the monetary plank and proposals by some Landon supporters for a constitutional amendment to empower states to fix minimum wages.

Factions among the Landon supporters, it appeared, were fearful, lest the Democratic convention a fortnight hence may pick up the minimum wage-constitutional question and characterize by advocating an amendment to offset the recent 5-4 supreme court decision against the New York state law, but Borah and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan insisted it would be premature and unnecessary to come out for an amendment now.
